

Fall is in the air, can you feel it? I just love the changing of the seasons. The sun is still shining, but there's a crispness in the morning air, school begins, football and soccer games are kicking off, and there's a natural anticipation in the air!

I am so excited to jump into the new school year with you and your families! Send me your sports and activity schedules, and start inviting your friends to join us for church on Sundays and Wednesdays!
